Art Unit: 1754

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over either Karvinen or Michalczyk et al. No distinction is seen between the metal oxide particles disclosed by Karvinen and Michalczyk et al, and that recited in claim 8.

Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over either Horne et al or Murayama et al. No distinction is seen between the metal oxide particles disclosed by Horne et al and Murayama et al, and that recited in claim 8.

Claims 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Horne et al or Murayama et al or Karvinen or Michalczyk et al. The uses recited in claims 9-12 are conventional uses for metal oxide particles. It would be obvious to use the metal oxide particles of Horne et al or Murayama et al or Karvinen or Michalczyk et al for such conventional uses.

Claims 1-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. It is indefinite as to what would constitute "known metal oxide precursors". It is also indefinite as to how the target molecule and alkylalkoxy compound are "used". In claim , it is indefinite as to whether the metal oxide particle would necessarily have the properties which would result from the sol-gel process of claims 1-7, since the claim recites that the metal oxide particle is "obtainable" (rather than obtained) by such process. Claims 9-12 provide for the use of a particle, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claims 9-12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).

Claims 4-12 are rejected under 35 USC 112 paragraph 5 in constituting multiple dependent claims which fail to depend from the parent claims in the alternative only.

Art Unit: 1754

Claims 5-12 are further rejected in constituting multiple dependent claims which depend from other multiple dependent claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: EP 0658525 discloses the use of polyhalogenated metal alkylalkoxy compounds for producing water-repellant films from which claims 1-7 differ in that the polyhalogenated metal alkylalkoxy compound is used together with the metal oxide precursor in a sol-gel process. The end product differs accordingly in that it has polyhalogenated compounds both within the particle and on its surface, and would therefor not be obvious.
